Questions include: How can I/we use music on a daily basis, like medicine, to help people care for and regulate their mental health? How can I partner with local pet rescue organizations to get pets adopted in my/our neighborhood? How can I/we bring unspoken news, like poverty, drug usage, and police brutality, to the public's attention using popular social media platforms like TikTok. How can I use my writing and art skills to publish a comic strip? and How can I show people how to use their backyard to grow fruits or vegetables so that we can be connected as a community.

and growth. Their lens centered on the question “if not RISE, then who?”.
